ANGEL MARTINEZ

Evangelist Dr. Angel Martinez, currently conducting a revival at First Baptist Church, discussed the spiritual need of modern man at yesterday's Lions Club luncheon. Other guests were the Rev. Gerald Trussell and Pete Nunez who sang several numbers accompanied by the piano by Mrs. Hendrix Spraggins. Jim Lockhart was a guest of Dr. Don Freil.

Large Crowd Turns Out for Revival

A crowd that overflowed the main floor of First Baptist church sanctuary and then streamed in to the balcony, last night heard Dr. Angel Martinez bring a stirring message on the second coming of Christ.

"The World is Waiting For the Sunrise" was the sermon topic, taken from Matthew 16:24-28. There were 11 rededications, bringing the two-day total to 23 decisions.

"The second coming of Jesus Christ, predicted in many verses of the gospel, is the hope of the world," declared the evangelist. He came once before as savior, as redeemer, stood before Pilate and was condemned and then crucified.

"On his second coming he will mount a throne, reign as a sovereign, supreme in power, and Pilate will stand before him. Every passing day brings us closer to this one divine event for which the whole creation will move."

"But now, today, we face a dark hour with wars, confusion and tragedy everywhere. Vietnam, China, Africa, Palestine and the explosive Middle East. But here in America we are blessed, while

Cutback in SS Benefits Discussed

By EDMOND LE BRETON WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee is talking of cutting back slightly Social Security benefit increases proposed by President Johnson.

This was learned as the committee continued today its weeks-long closed sessions on the complex administration legislation. There is little prospect of a House vote earlier than next month.

Johnson's proposals involved a hike in benefits of not less than 15 per cent for any recipient, with some in the lower brackets getting a proportionately much larger increase.

A committee source said discussions now center around an increase averaging perhaps 13 per cent.

Predominant committee sentiment, it was said, is against raising the wage base in which the tax is levied as steeply as the presidential proposal contemplates — from the present $6,600 to $7,800 in 1968, $9,000 in 1971 and $10,800 in 1974.

Combined with tax rate increases, these base steps would mean, for those earning the maximum, a rise from the present $290.40 annual tax to $343.20 in 1968 and ultimately, by 1977, $626.40.

Without such increases, the full range of increases proposed by Johnson would not be financed by program income.

The committee source said no agreement on an exact benefit increase schedule has been reached yet. But he said this would not be as difficult as resolving other portions of the legislation, such as those dealing with changes in medicare and with limitations on federal participation in state medical programs.

the high court's decision. The Supreme Court said in a decision earlier Monday that the law which prohibits the teaching of evolution in public schools was a proper exercise of the state's power to specify the curriculum in its public schools. Rozzell asked Warren to investigate whether the state Board of Education could legally adopt a text book which contains and explanation of the theory,

New Head of Nursing School

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Mildred Armour, former head of the nursing school at Ouachita Baptist University, which dropped its nurses training program, will head the State College of Arkansas nursing program, SCA President Silas D. Snow announced Monday.

Nursing classes started Monday at SCA for 32 nursing degree candidates who were left stranded six weeks ago when OBU folded its nursing school because of the lack of funds.

Snow said that the nurse training staff was not complete, and he and Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller congratulated the students during inaugural ceremonies for continuing their studies despite the uncertainties they had faced.

Cleared for Channel Swim

DOVER, England (AP) — Linda McGill, 20-year-old Australian girl who says she plans to swim the English Channel in a topless swimsuit, was cleared Sunday by the Channel Swimming Association.

A spokesman at Dover said, "As far as we are concerned she can swim with no costume at all."

Power Back on After a Blackout

NEW YORK (AP) — Power flowed normally today through the four-state area hit by a massive failure but residents were faced with the prospect that a hot summer could increase chances for a recurrence of the blackout.

Chairman Lee White of the Federal Power Commission said that the area of New Jersey, Delaware, and parts of Pennsylvania and Maryland "must be extremely cautious this summer."

The reserve capacity of the affected region, White said, is "not all that it should be." He added the blackout Monday night might have been averted had two power plants now under construction been in operation.

White declined to predict the possibility of another occurrence saying at one point he did not know "how rough the summer was going to be"—an allusion to the use of air conditioners which draw heavy current loads.

He said he would rather not speculate on a suggestions that the failure might have been caused by many of the 13 million people in the area turning on their air conditioners at once. But he said that could be a plausible hypothesis.

The blackout caused incalculable losses and profits to businesses and industries. Hundreds of thousands of workers were given the day off with pay while others were called in to work overtime.

No Highway Funds for Turnpike

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Highway Commission can provide necessary services for the state Turnpike Authority, but it cannot transfer any funds directly to the Authority, the attorney general's office ruled Monday.

The opinion means that the Authority will depend entirely on the Highway Commission. Commission officials, who sought the opinion from the attorney general's office, said they foresaw no conflict as a result of it.

John Thompson, general counsel for the state Highway Department, said, "We'll spend the money to do the work they (the Turnpike Authority) want us to do." The opinion said that at no

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — James Stubblefield of North Little Rock, charged in the March 28, 1965 beating that led to the death two weeks later of Miss Glenese Royal, was sentenced to one year in the State Penitentiary after pleading guilty to manslaughter in circuit court here Monday.

Mrs. WR to Get Degree

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Winthrop Rockefeller, wife of the Arkansas governor, and her daughter, Mrs. Anne Papa, will receive degrees Friday during graduation exercises at New York City's Finch College, it was announced here Monday.

Mrs. Rockefeller will get an honorary doctor of humane letters degree, and Mrs. Papa will receive her bachelor of arts degree.

Mrs. Rockefeller, a graduate of Finch, has served on its board of trustees for the past two years.

One Killed in Collision

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP) — One person was killed and another seriously injured Monday in a head-on collision on U.S. 167, about 11 miles south of here. Sherman Vernon, 66, a Memphis sales representative for a Cleveland, Ohio roofing materials manufacturer, was dead on arrival here after his automobile collided with a pickup truck driven by Mrs. Junior Scroggins, 38, of Midway. State police said Mrs. Scroggins was given emergency treatment here and transferred to a Little Rock hospital where she was listed in serious condition.

All you have to do is mention the month of June and everyone thinks of wedding bells. It is true that we are marrying off quite a group this season, but there are some other special events in this month that are worth mentioning.

But the one week that seems to be very popular is "Let's Play Golf Week." It is fun to get out and swing a few, but it is MORE fun if you happen to be wearing Koret of California Golf shorts that fit like shorts should and with them... a dacron shell that will wash and dry in minutes. We have the cutest print shorts in the gayest colors. The shells will match. You will want several and get them NOW. They are bought by customers every day!

If you like pants that look like dress, try California Girl pants-dress. It is the smartest and most comfortable garment we have ever worn. It is lined, one-piece and in dacron-cotton. You might as well take home one of Thermo-Jac pants-dresses. It goes to patio parties in style! Our summer shipments are complete and we are smack-dab in the middle of it. Let's get with it and shop today at

HUNDREDS VOTE FOR "S.O.S."
Dear Helen: Three cheers for S.O.S.—Stamp Out Steadying. I'm behind it one thousand percent.
I do hope a million kids wrote in and asked for S.O.S. buttons, so we can get a movement started.—SOS FOREVER
Dear SOS BACKERS: Not a million... but some 300 guys and gals have asked for charter membership in the SOS club... which astounds me, considering there is no club, so far. It was merely suggested by a reader.
So now: If you're interested in forming or belonging to an S.O.S. (Stamp Out Steadying) club, please let me know by postcard or letter, addressed to HELEN HELP US, care of your newspaper. Remember—this is just a VOTE, not an application for membership. We'll discuss that later, and also reasonably priced buttons, should enough of you tell me you're in favor. I'll need at least a thousand votes before I go ahead with it.
Meanwhile, here's what some of the 300 think about steady dating:
Dear Helen: Whatever happened to dating? I tried going steady and it's a drag. But staying home every Friday night is no picnic either. Nowadays it's impossible to date unless you're a "steady" or a free make-out. I've found lots of other kids share my problem.
A survey was taken at our high school, and 40 out of 60 teens said they didn't date; 10 said they dated off and on; and remaining 10 said they dated frequently—these are the "steadies."

Television and Radio

By GENE HANDSAKER
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — From this reviewer an award to Lucille Ball for injecting the only note of drama into Sunday night's Emmy awards.
"The last time I thought they gave it to me because I'd had a baby," said tearful winner Lucy, "and that baby—Desi Arnaz Jr.—is 14 years old now."
So what if Miss Ball was off a couple of years and her last Emmy was 12 years ago, not 14? The excitement-starved crowd loved her.
Another award to spy Jimmy Durante for the liveliest comedy touches. Proceeding "wid further adoo" to present an Emmy he croaked as his tongue tangled in the script: "What a night for my interpreter to get sick!"
Otherwise, the 195th annual awards of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences was largely pretty dull going — for live audiences in Hollywood and New York and Television viewers in between.
During a commercial break, emcee Joey Bishop, who stood with his legs crossed at the podium much of the time, told the Hollywood crowd: "I'd like to keep the show moving — there's a wedding booked here in half an hour."
But neither he nor Hugh Downs, who presided over the New York festivities, could prod much life into the ponderous proceedings with their sealed envelopes, technical awards and repetitious speeches.
Neither man, after all, is a Bob Hope, veteran sparkplug of the Oscar ceremonies. Downs, an affable straight man, reminded all that "there are no losers." Just to be nominated is a great honor.
The Hollywood presentations were in the Los Angeles Room of the Century Plaza Hotel, a vast chamber with atrocious echoing acoustics. Many people present, their eardrums blasted by the orchestra's trombones, were blocked by a sea of heads from any view of the goings-on.

Excerpts from Robert Goulet and Toscanini performances, projected on inadequate monitor screens, were excuses for renewed gabbling and guzzling by the crowd.
There was even chatter when Downs, in New York, was paying tribute to the late Walt Disney for furthering "the cause of international understanding."
It was pleasant to see bulky, smiling Frances Bavier win an Emmy after seven years' toil as folksy Aunt Bea on the "The Andy Griffith Show." It was the first Emmy nomination for the native of New York City, a veteran of the stage and television.
Runner-up for the light touch: James Frawley who said he'd have to share his Emmy for directing a segment of "The Monkees" with "four really funny guys." He named not the expectant Monkees but "Harpo, Chico, Groucho and Gummo."
Winner Sid Caesar said in Hollywood, "Anything I say is going to be a cliché," then, smacking a kiss to Imogene Coca in New York, windily proved it.
Tourists Quickly Leave Middle East
By ALEX EFTY
JERUSALEM, Jordan (AP) — Tourist traffic through this Biblical city, one of the greatest attractions in the world, has dried up as a result of the Middle East crisis.
The loss of revenue is a blow for the Jordanian government and thousands of Jordanians directly dependent on tourism for a living.
According to official figures, more than 2,000 tourists pass through the gates of the old walled city of Jerusalem on every normal day. Their contribution to the Jordanian economy is estimated at $33 million a year, equal to the country's total annual exports.
The other part of Jerusalem, in Israeli-held territory, also is a tourist attraction but its economy is more widespread.
Until a few days ago, the narrow cobbled alleysways of the Old City, which impress visitors as having changed but little since the days of Christ, were constantly filled with a polyglot throng of visitors from many lands.
The hundreds of small shops selling souvenirs of the Holy Land did a roaring trade. The

Dear Helen: Congratulations to the girl who stood up against going steady. Here are a few pros and cons on the subject. The pros first:
1. You don't have to sit by the telephone waiting for someone to call, or if you're a boy, you don't need to fear refusal.
2. You gain status by wearing "his" ring, or popularity by dating "the" girl.
3. It's much easier to give a party when everybody is already paired off.
4. If you really like each other, it's a great experience in learning to get along.
The cons:
1. If you don't like each other that much, it's a terrible experience trying to hide it.
2. You miss out on the fun of dating other persons. Steadies tend to get in a rut—you go to the same places, see the same people, sit in front of the same TV sets.
3. After going steady for a while you are not thought of as "he" or "she," but "they." It's hard to disassociate yourselves.
4. The more people you date, the more you learn about the opposite sex, to better prepare yourself for marriage.
5. Going steady makes you too possessive.
6. When you aren't steadying, you have time for yourself, without hurting your steady's feelings because you want to be alone.
7. Steadying CAN lead to a drop in grades, dropping out of school, or a disastrous early marriage.
8. Breaking up is MURDER! Almost like getting a divorce. So you stay with same one much longer than you really want to, all the time sort of resenting it. It's not as much fun stopping something as starting it.—I KNOW scores of professional guides, taxi drivers, hotel employees, the carvers of olive wood and mother of pearl crucifixes and other mementos, the Oriental jewelers and the weavers of Arabian carpets and brocades, were kept happily busy.

Now the hotels are empty. The shopkeepers, with no customers to serve, sit disconsolately in small groups in the alleys, listening to news on transistor radios.
Tourist guides are nowhere to be seen. The carvers, the weavers and the jewelers have stopped working. They spend all their time going from shop to shop in an effort to place their wares, but they are turned away as the shopkeepers are unwilling to increase their already idle stocks.
Life goes on in Jerusalem even without the tourists. The food bazaars are still as full of jostling crowds as ever.
Another type of businessman reported a sudden increase in trade. He operates a packing and forwarding office. The sidewalk outside his shop was stacked high with wooden crates and metal trunks bearing American and other foreign addresses.
They all contained the household effects of foreign families that had hurriedly left Jerusalem on the advice of their embassies as the war clouds over the Middle East darkened.
Charlotte Corday was executed for the murder of Jean Marat, leader of the French Revolution.

Gotay and Morgan Win for Astros

By ED SCUTTLE JR.
Joe Morgan and Fido Gotay are on two-week reserve tours, but Gotay, unlike Morgan, would like to see his stint stretch through September at least.

Morgan, the Houston Astros' second baseman, is on two-week Army Reserve training, and Gotay has been called up from Oklahoma City to fill in for him. "They say I'm just up for two weeks," Gotay said Monday night, "but I don't want to go back down again."

If his performance in Houston's 5-2 victory over St. Louis is any indication of what his fill-in tour is going to be like, he might not. Gotay collected a double and two singles, drove in two runs and scored once.

In other National League games Monday night, Los Angeles beat Atlanta 4-2 and the Chicago Cubs trounced Philadelphia 13-3.

In the American League, Minnesota edged Cleveland 5-4, Detroit nipped Kansas City 2-1 in 11 innings, the New York Yankees topped Washington 4-2 and California trimmed Baltimore 3-2.

Gotay, a 27-year-old Puerto Rican who has been in and out of the major leagues in the past several years, has added incentive to make this stay in the big time an extended one.

"I got to go hard with the two coming," he said.

The "two coming" are the twins his wife has been told she can expect in August. The Gotays already have two children.

Gotay, hitless in his last 20 at bats at Oklahoma City, tied the game at 1-1 in the fifth inning by doubling home a run and then scored on a sacrifice fly in the same inning. His third hit drove in one of two runs in the sixth inning when the Astros clinched the victory which snapped a three-game losing streak.

Tony Cloninger started for Atlanta for the first time since April 26 when he was sidelined with an eye ailment.

The right-hander was touched for all four Los Angeles runs, the big blow being a two-run homer by Len Gabrielson in the second.

The Braves, losing their fifth straight, drove Los Angeles starter Claude Osteen to cover in the ninth when the first two men up—Rico Carty and Clete Boyer—homered. Phil Regan came in to save the victory.

Manager Leo Durocher wasn't around to enjoy his Cubs' romp. Umpire Augie Donatelli thumbed Durocher in the third inning for arguing a strike call.

"I invited him for tea and he said he could make it," Durocher said when asked what he had said to Donatelli.

The Cubs started their own Tee Party when Billy Williams hit a solo homer with two out in the fifth to break a 1-1 tie and spark a four-run surge.

Chicago came right back with four in the sixth. This outburst was capped by Ted Savage's pinch hit three-run homer.

Williams also homered in the eighth, and teammates Ron Santo and Ernie Banks connected in the ninth. Bill White hit his first homer of the season for the Phillies.

Horse With Broken Leg Destroyed

NEW YORK (AP)—Cool Reception, who finished second in the Belmont Stakes despite a broken right foreleg, was destroyed Monday night.

The courageous Canadian 3-year-old colt started to weave about a sixteenth of a mile from home in the grueling 1 1/2-mile final leg of racing's Triple Crown Saturday but gamely lunged on to finish 2 1/2 lengths behind winner Damascus.

"He finished the last sixteenth of a mile on pure guts," said jockey Johnny Sellers, who dismounted shortly after the finish and walked Cool Reception back to the unsaddling ring.

A two-hour operation was performed Monday in an effort to save the colt, but a few hours later, Dr. William Reed said:

"There was nothing else we could do. We had to put him to sleep."

Tillotson Paying Off for Yankees

By MIKE RECHT
Thad Tillotson looks like a better reward than money to the New York Yankees in payment for helping the Los Angeles Dodgers win the National League pennant last season.

The Yankees, who got the unheralded minor league pitcher and a bundle of cash from the Dodgers for Dick Schofield last September, cashed in another premium on the big right-hander Monday night.

Tillotson, who barely made the roster in spring training, pitched the Yankees to a 4-2 victory over the Washington Senators, his third triumph without a loss in his first major league season.

At the same time, the Detroit Tigers were busy cashing in on pitching coach Johnny Sain, a newcomer to the Tigers this season.

Dennis McLain, Tiger right-hander, threw credit toward Sain after throwing sliders by Kansas City for 11 innings as he beat Kansas City 3-2.

In the other American League games, Cesar Tovar scored on a wild pitch with two out in the last of the ninth inning for Minnesota's 5-4 victory over Cleveland and reliever Bill Kelsor's five shutout innings helped California past Baltimore 3-2.

Chicago and Boston were not scheduled.

In the only National League game, Los Angeles beat Atlanta 4-2, the Chicago Cubs clobbered Philadelphia 13-3 and Houston topped St. Louis 5-2.

Mickey Mantle made Tillotson's victory possible with his 12th homer in the eighth inning that broke a 2-2 tie. A second run scored in the inning on a sacrifice fly.

Tom Tresh homered earlier with a man on for the deadlock after Mike Epstein made his debut for the Senators with a fluke inside-the-park homer with one on on a pop fly that bounded past Tresh.

McLain allowed only seven hits in his effort and one of the runs off him was unearned when Phil Roof tripped in the ninth inning and scored when Al Kalline bobbled the ball.

Jim Northrup singled and scored on Norm Cash's double for the winning run.

"My good control is back and my slider now is a weapon I have confidence in. I know I can battle the hitters with it," McLain said after evening his record at 6-6.

"Give Johnny Sain the credit. I didn't like the idea when he wanted to teach it (the slider) to me in the spring. Tonight it made all the difference. I threw it 15-20 times."

Steve Bailey's control was not as good for Cleveland. He made the wild pitch that got Tovar home after the reliever walked Tovar, who reached third on Rod Carew's safety.

Bob Allison homered earlier for the Twins and Tony Oliva pulled them into a 4-4 tie in the sixth inning after Fred Whitfield and Max Alvis hit solo shots for the Indians.

Kelso, 3-1, took over in the fifth inning for Nick Willhite, who left with a pulled muscle after giving up both Baltimore runs, one on a homer by Paul Blair.

The Angels led 3-2 at the time with three runs in the second inning as an infield out, a single by Jose Cardenal and a force out drove them home. Kelso allowed only one hit and a walk the rest of the way.

Intrepid and Eagle After Second Wins

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP)—Intrepid and American Eagle will be going after their second straight victories today in the preliminary trials to determine the United States' defender against Australia in the America's Cup yacht races.

Intrepid, skippered by Bus Mosbacher, and American Eagle, with George Hinman at the helm, scored expected victories Monday over Weatherly and Constellation.

Weatherly, skippered by Briggs Cunningham, was 49 seconds back of Intrepid, Constellation, with Bob McCullough the skipper, was 50 seconds behind American Eagle.

The same pairings will continue for the races that are scheduled daily through Friday. Two other sets of trials will be held later this summer before the 12-meter yacht is selected to face the Australian challenger in the America's Cup off Newport, R.I., in September.

Snead Would Like to Win U.S. Open

By BOB GREEN

The signs were all there. The casualties, including Ed Furgol, all qualifying rounds.

Furgol, who won his Open title in Monday's sectional tie in 1954, the last time the qualifications for the U.S. Open Golf championship.

But Sam Snead doesn't believe in signs.

"I don't think there's anything in this box stuff, this business of holes each on the par 72 Wheel-signs," the old West Virginia trolley Hills layout and the par 71 mountaineer snorted today as he sought to make his way into his 26th U.S. Open Tournament.

He failed to make it last year. Snead, who has won all of ladies class," said Furgol, who had played in 21 consecutive Opens.

Five former PGA champions, Ron Cerrudo and two other members of the U.S. Walker Cup team also fell by the wayside in the qualifications that also were held in Cincinnati, Denver, Chicago, Kansas City, Memphis, Tenn., and Vancouver, Wash.

Former PGA champs eliminated were Lionel (1957) and Jay (1961) Hebert, Jack Burke (1956), Doug Ford (1955) and Dow Finsterwald (1958), Burke and Ford also won Masters championships.

Jim Grant, another Walker Cupper, also failed at New York, while Ed Tutwiler missed in Cincinnati.

And it was in Memphis, on the par 35-35-70 Colonial Country Club course, that South African Bob Verwey put together the day's best round, a spectacular 133—seven under par and led a field of 23 qualifiers.

Other sectional qualifications in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Washington, Atlanta, Pittsburgh and Dallas will complete the field of 150 for the finals at Baltusrol in Springfield, N.J., June 15-18.

Sixty-seven made it through sectional qualifications at seven sites Monday and 27 others—including most of the big name touring pros—are exempt from all qualifying rounds.

They will remain throughout the week.

Fresh Starts for Some Old Goalies

MONTREAL (AP)—Some old goalies fade away, but a couple of the oldest—and finest—in the National Hockey League were on their way to fresh starts in today's monumental expansion draft...if they choose to make the trip.

Glenn Hall, Chicago's nine-time All-Star, figured to be one of the top prizes as the NHL stocked six new clubs with two goaltenders apiece, kicking off the two-day draft session in which 120 pros eventually will change addresses.

Coupled with the 35-year-old Hall in pre-draft speculation were Toronto's veteran tandem of Johnny Bower, 42, and Terry Sawchuk, 37, one of whom most likely will be chosen on the first round.

The six expansion franchisees—

California, Los Angeles, Minnesota, St. Louis, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia—were to select 20 players apiece from lists submitted by their NHL predecessors. Each of the established teams were to lose 20, including two goalkeepers, from their systems, in professional sport's biggest talent turnover ever.

Chicago's regular season champions were expected to top their protective list of 12 players with goalie Denis DeJordy, a cool, 28-year-old performer who shared the job with Hall in 1966-67.

Hall, a first team All-Star six times, retired before the start of the 1966-67 campaign, but changed his mind two months later and helped the Hawks nail their first NHL title. He has not indicated whether he intends to return for his 14th season and could be difficult to sign for the team which drafts him.

On the other hand, both Sawchuk, who backstopped the Leafs to their Stanley Cup triumph with brilliant efforts against Chicago and Montreal, and Bower, a Toronto fixture for the past nine years, have said they'll be happy to play—anywhere—next season.

The feeling Monday, as the newly aligned 12-team circuit began its summer meetings, was that Punch Imlach, Toronto's manager-coach, would protect Sawchuk. Terry, who bounced back from serious back surgery last year, is the league's all-time shutout king with an even 100 in regular season play.

During the separate goalie draft, each of the old clubs—New York, Boston, Detroit, Chicago, Montreal, and Toronto—protected one net-minder, lost one, added another to its safe list and then lost a second man.

the 1965 draft, was grabbed by the Chicago Cubs organization and came along so fast that he beat Sandy Koufax in a memorable duel last season and was 5-0 this year when called into service. Both Don Shaw of the New York Mets and Bill Dillman of Baltimore have been effective relief pitchers. Shaw as No. 752 and Dillman No. 118 in the original draft.

Scouts who hoped for instant success in the draft pointed to the performances of men such as Gary Nolan (4-1) of Cincinnati and Rich Nye of the Cubs (3-4). Nye was No. 786 in the 1965 draft but was unsigned. He was grabbed by the Cubs in the special phase last June.

The draft is divided into two phases—regular and special. The regular phase covers amateur players not previously drafted.

In compliance with the new college rule, no player in a four-year college can be selected in this phase until he is a senior or has reached the age of 21. In the secondary phase, players selected previously but not signed, are eligible.

In the regular phase the clubs draft in inverse order of their 1966 finish with the American first and then the National League alternating. The Yanks are followed by the Cubs and so on down to the 20th and final pick by the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Each major league can take one, each Triple A farm can draft two, Each Double A farm four and there is no limit on Class A farms.

The draft also will include American Legion players but they cannot be signed until after the Legion season.

Lake Placid to Host Games

NEW YORK (AP)—Lake Placid, N.Y., will be host to the first John F. Kennedy International Memorial Games during the winter of 1968-69, AAU Executive Director Col. Don Hull announced Monday.

The New York Yankees, with first pick in the two-day session are eyeing shortstop Terry Hughes of Spartanburg, S.C.

Monday, the regular center fielder for the Kansas City A's until he was hit on the face by a pitched ball Saturday, was the No. 1 pick in the very first free agent draft in June, 1965. After two years in the minors, and a brief trial last year with the A's, Monday came up to stay this season.

Les Rohr was the No. 2 man in 1965 and he was drafted by the New York Mets. So far, he has been a disappointment and currently is in military service.

Joe Coleman, a 3-3 pitcher for Washington through Sunday's games, was No. 3 in that first selection. The son of the former big league pitcher came up last year and won his only start.

Ken Holtzman, the 61st pick in

Officials Say Moscow Wants End to War

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—Official U.S. sources say despite Moscow's public condemnation of Israel and avowed support of the Arabs, the Soviets apparently want a quick end to the Middle East war.

This was about the brightest spot today in an otherwise dark picture as the U.S. government pushed for a speedy cease-fire after it eased away from one official's use of the term neutral and wound up as a self-proclaimed non-belligerent.

The official sources said their rating of Kremlin intentions came from behind-the-scenes discussions with Soviet diplomats and others at the U.N. Security Council over rival proposals for a cease-fire in the day-old conflict.

The assessment eased fears the Middle East flames would quickly ignite a major power conflagration. But the Arab-Israeli conflict itself posed serious problems for the United States. President Johnson was expected to discuss them with Democratic leaders and with his secretaries of state and defense at scheduled meetings today.

At the State Department, lights were on all night as officials scanned reports from the conflict area and worked on such problems as:

— How to evacuate, by civilian transport if possible, those of the 44,000 Americans in the 14-nation danger zone who want to get out.

"In view of the hostilities," the State Department banned all but specially authorized travel by U.S. citizens to Israel and 13 Arab countries reaching from Iraq on the Persian Gulf to Morocco on North Africa's Mediterranean-Atlantic corner. Anti-U.S. demonstrations flared across the broad Arab area and Americans were advised to leave.

NLR Youth Is Drowned

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Sherwin Jones, 15, son of Lucy Jones of North Little Rock, drowned Saturday while swimming in Lake Hamilton, just off U.S. 270, west of Hot Springs.

Authorities said Jones apparently developed cramps while swimming in about 10 feet of water near the end of a dock. He was on an outing with some 60 classmates from Jones High School.

Judges Rule Out the Strap

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Two Federal Judges enjoined prison officials in Arkansas Saturday from using the leather strap in punishing prisoners "until proper and adequate safeguards surrounding its use" are filed with the court.

The ruling by Judges Gordon Young and Owen Harris resulted from petitions filed last year by three Tucker Prison Farm inmates, William King Jackson, Lyle Edward Ernst Jr. and Grady W. Mask.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Funny Money

What if you discover that a dollar bill, recently acquired by you, is a counterfeit? Your quick reaction might be:

"This thing is a hot potato. I'd better unload it onto somebody else as fast as I can."

But if you do, you will be committing the serious crime of passing counterfeit money. True, you do have a hot potato on your hands. But it is folly to add to the minor mistake of accepting the money the major mistake of passing it along.

Your duty is plain. Notify the local police department or the United States Secret Service at once, giving as much information as you can about when, where, and from whom you received the bill. No, you will not be reimbursed for the one dollar. But you will be helping to curb one of the most ancient and persistent of crimes—one that has been given a new lease on life by modern techniques of printing and engraving.

In the roster of criminals, the counterfeit is something of a maverick. He is seldom motivated by sudden passion or by grinding poverty or by personal inadequacies. He has time enough for planning, money enough for equipment, and talent enough for manufacturing. He is a cool customer who knows exactly what he is doing.

However, merely passing—unlike manufacturing—counterfeit money may occur in perfect innocence. It is part of the government's job in prosecuting to prove that the person who passed the counterfeit money knew (or at least thought) that it was counterfeit. Consider this case:

An intoxicated fellow, caught spending counterfeit money in a bar, denied that he knew it was bogus. At the trial, the government told the court:

"Shortly before this man's arrest, he burned a $5 bill to light his cigar. So he must have known the money was no good."

But the court was not convinced beyond a reasonable doubt, and dismissed the charge. The judge said it was quite possible for a drinking man to burn real money

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Q—Could gonorrhea cause one to develop a high blood sugar, prostatic enlargement or a scanty flow of urine?

A—It would not cause high blood sugar. It often causes a chronic prostatitis, with moderate enlargement of the gland. This is in no way related to the prostatic enlargement of men who are past 50. Gonorrhea may cause a stricture of the urethra that may interfere with the flow of urine but it would not interfere with the production of urine by the kidneys.

Q—Does penicillin really cure gonorrhea and syphilis? Are there other treatments that can be used by persons who are allergic to penicillin?

A—When penicillin is given early in the course of these diseases it will cure them. In persons who are allergic to penicillin, one of the tetracyclines can be used to treat gonorrhea. For syphilis, bismuth preparations may be given but they are not generally as effective as penicillin. Some of these patients may be able to tolerate one of the modified penicillins.

Q—Can any type of venereal disease be caught from a bathtub or wash basin?

A—No.

Q—If a person contracted gonorrhea nine years ago, and after taking treatments was said to be cured, is it possible for the disease to recur?

A—No, but you could be re-infected.

Q—Would a person who had gonorrhea or syphilis treated several years ago but who, on repeated tests, shows no evidence of these diseases transmit them to a spouse if he or she were to marry?

A—No.

Q—In a recent column you recommended hydroxyprogesterone caproate for enlargement of the prostate. Neither my druggist nor my doctor ever heard of this drug. Has it got any other name?

A—It is available on a doctor's prescription under the trade name Delalutin.

In another case, though, there was evidence that the defendant, when he realized detectives were on his trail, flushed his counterfeit money down a toilet.

This time, the defendant was convicted. The court found no reasonable explanation for this behavior except a guilty conscience.

SUNNY SMILE on Pat Perry, one of the more attractive features of the scenery at Cypress Gardens, Fla., should be reason enough for carrying this picture. Can you think of a better one?

LEGAL NOTICE

In the Chancery Court of Hempstead County, Arkansas - L. A. Foster (Plaintiff) vs. No. 9135 - Minnie Scott, et al (Defendants).

NOTICE OF SALE
Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, Commissioner in Chancery, pursuant to the Order of the Chancery Court of Hempstead County, Arkansas, rendered on the 1st day of June, 1967, in a cause therein pending wherein L. A. Foster is plaintiff and Minnie Scott, et al, are defendants, will on the 28th day of June, 1967, offer for sale at public auction, at the East door of the Courthouse in the City of Hope, Arkansas to the highest and best bidder, the following lands situated in Hempstead County, Arkansas, to-wit:

The North Half of the South Half of the Southwest Quarter (N 1/2 S 1/2 SW 1/4) of Section Thirty-five (35), Township Fourteen (14) South, Range Twenty-five (25) West, containing forty (40) acres, more or less. Also, one (1) acre of land lying in a square in the Southeast corner of the Northwest Quarter of the Southwest Quarter (NW 1/4 SW 1/4) of Section Thirty-five (35), Township Fourteen (14) South, Range Twenty-five (25) West.

Said sale will be held at 11:00 o'clock in the forenoon of the date aforesaid. The purchaser at such sale shall be entitled to credit of three months, but will be required to give bond, with approved security to secure the payment of the purchase price; and a lien will be retained on said lands further to secure such purchase money.

WITNESS MY HAND this 5th day of June, 1967.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Neat Play Under Different Name

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

In our recent discussion of "Bridge for Women" we mentioned that female bridge experts are more apt to play hunches than their male counterparts.

We also pointed out that women's hunches are likely to be more good common sense than psychic.

As an example, take this hand played by Jan Stone of New York. East won the heart lead with his king and returned the seven spot. Jan thought awhile and played a low heart. West won with the eight, cashed his heart ace and led a spade. Jan won in her own hand and lost the diamond finesse to East's king but all East could do was to lead a heart to Jan's queen, whereupon Jan took the rest of the tricks.

East asked Jan how she figured out the low heart play at trick two. "Just a hunch," replied Jan.

Later on she explained that it wasn't really a hunch. She realized that if West had led from jack-eight-two her low play would lose and the queen play would win, and that if West had led from eight-five-two then the ten play would be the only winner but Jan went on: "I had played against this East before. He always false-plays against me, so if he had started with ace-king or ace-king-jack he would automatically have played the ace at trick one. There was no point in revealing this to him. I would rather that he kept on treating me like a simple player. It is so much easier to play against him on that basis."

Jan's logic was flawless. If your opponents will be kind enough to underestimate you, they are also going to lose to you.

It also reminds us of a remark made by Mary Clement, one of the great bridge players of the thirties. She had just executed a three-suit squeeze and asked her victim, "Was that actually a squeeze? I never know."

'Back 40' Report Man-Made Law Vs. Evolution

I had noticed some turmoil among the geese on my "back 40," S. Walnut St. There was trouble between the white native geese and the Canadian Honkers, but the mated Canadian pair were having a domestic row. The gender assumed a menacing posture, bugled, and jerked its lady's tail feathers. Obviously, he was issuing orders, and, equally obvious, she was objecting.

I happened to know that hidden in the privet hedge was a nest of 22 goose eggs. A year ago the Canadian and domestic hens took turns on the nest, but finally the white hen, the loud-mouthed and bossy Mrs. Grundy, assumed the entire management—and it was a 100 per cent disaster, for not a gosling hatched.

And so another spring, watching the interchange between the Canada geese, I could guess what they were talking about: Mr. was telling Mrs.—"Look, get yourself over to that nest and go to work—before that character Mrs. Grundy ruins another hatch!"

But Mr. Honker had no luck. Neither have I. For yesterday Mrs. Grundy took up her appointed station on the nest—and since no one else seems to be worrying I have quit too.

Initiated Act. No. 1 of 1928 which forbids the teaching of the theory of evolution in public schools was upheld Monday in a 4-to-1 ruling by the Arkansas Supreme Court. It is regrettable, because the decision will be appealed and it is virtually a certainty that the United States Supreme Court will strike it down for what it is—a bad, oppressive, and un-American "law."

This writer fought Initiated No. 1 when the people voted on it, and ever since we have advocated ignoring it as not worthy of an intelligent person's attention. Monday's state supreme court action was strictly a political—rather than judicial—decision, and this newspaper isn't slow to call a spade a spade when the subject is earth-moving.

Every person is entitled to his own opinion—about evolution or anything else. But when he attempts to hang his opinion upon everyone else's neck with a law he is becoming oppressive.

Certain preachers backed Initiated No. 1 in 1928. The same preachers who claim the constitutional right of free speech would deny it to teachers in the public classrooms.

A local 'teen-ager called the shot on the evolution argument a couple of years ago. Her father asked her:

"Do you think evolution should be taught in the public schools?" "Taught?" pondered the 'teen-ager. "I don't know about 'taught'—but at least it ought to be presented...."

$17,000 Worth on Fish Trip

MINDEN, La. (AP) — Phillip Cox and Perry Parker were fishing for fish, but what the Minden youngsters fished up of the Borchert Bayou over a canal was a laundry bag loaded with stocks, bonds, deeds and other papers taken last Wednesday night in a burglary at Hermitage, Ark., bank. Sheriff O. H. Haynes Jr. said Monday that the bag of papers, which was worthless to the thieves, didn't include the $17,000 worth of greenbacks in the burglary.

Americans Shoot Down Three MIGs

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) — American jets probed deep into the fortified heartland of North Vietnam Monday, bombing rail lines into Hanoi and drawing out a swarm of Communist Mig interceptors. Three of the MIGs were reported shot down.

Although little ground fighting was reported, the airman carried the war to the Communists with 113 strike missions over North Vietnam and five raids by giant B52 bombers against targets in South Vietnam.

The U.S. Command announced that Red ground gunners shot down a Navy Crusader jet over North Vietnam, the 572nd U.S. combat plane lost above the 17th Parallel. The pilot was missing.

The Communists sent up 20 or more swept-wing MIG21s and MIG17s in an unsuccessful attempt to disrupt the raids on the rail line leading north from Hanoi to the industrial complex of Thai Nguyen.

Within 20 minutes American Phantom jet pilots brought three MIG17s down. A spokesman said that flights of the Red fighters were buzzing all over the sky and it was impossible to determine how many were in the air.

Dogfights have now accounted for 77 MIGs down while 20 U.S. planes have been shot down.

The big B52s, each carrying 60,000 pounds of bombs, hit the western borders of South Vietnam, along routes where the Ho Chi Minh trail dogged infiltrators into jungle hideouts. Two of the raids were in the northern sector, two in the central highlands and one along the Cambodian frontier west of Saigon.

Memory Is Warehouse Where Each Man Can Store Things in Past

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is man's most momentous warehouse.

But none of the items it stocks are for sale.

In this warehouse each man stores his past. Your own warehouse of memories is pretty well-stocked if you can look back and remember when:

Only rich people and Bohemian artists served buffet dinners. The poor and the middle class sat down at the table and ate a meal they called supper.

People whispered about anyone who moved into the neighborhood who had been divorced. A dude was a fellow who wore all-white shoes and a $10 Panama hat in summer.

A husband taking his plump wife out to dinner had to help lace her up and back instead of just zipper her.

If you wanted to put up a birdhouse in the yard, you built it — you didn't think of vesting money buying one.

Dr. Lester Sitzes, Dr. Sam Strong and Dr. Jon Leim have been added to the growing list of Committee of 100 members. What Is The Committee of 100??? The following answers that question and what it proposes to do for Hope and Hempstead County.

WHAT IS IT?
It is a special committee of the Chamber of Commerce set up strictly for the purpose of raising funds for industrial development.

It will be composed of Business and Professional men of Hempstead County who pledge themselves to contribute $100.00 per year for this purpose.

WHY IS IT NEEDED?
The Chamber of Commerce budget has never had sufficient funds for industrial trips and for other phases of industrial development. In the past when it was necessary to visit an industrial prospect, those people making the trip, for the most part, paid their own expenses, which is actually asking too much of a few dedicated citizens. Personal contact has been proven to be the most effective industrial development tool and Hope has not done nearly enough of this in the past, due to lack of funds. Industry hunting is getting more competitive each year and those towns with funds to go after it are the ones that are doing the best job.

HOW WILL THE FUND BE ADMINISTERED?

An Executive Committee, composed of nine (9) citizens, will be elected from those who contribute to the fund and no money will be disbursed, for any purpose, without prior approval from a majority of this committee voting to do so. The Chamber of Commerce Treasurer and Manager will be charged with the responsibility of keeping accurate records of funds deposited and disbursed and with furnishing the Executive Committee with an operating statement for each of their meetings or at any time that they are called on to do so. No salaries to anyone will be paid out of this fund.

AN ADDED INCENTIVE.

The Hope Water & Light Commission, realizing the need for such a fund, has pledged matching money up to $5,000.00, so a $100.00 contribution will actually be worth $200.00 to the fund.

American Facilities Attacked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mobs attacked American facilities in Baghdad, Damascus and Alexandria, U. S. government sources here disclosed today.

American government employees at the Alexandria consulate fled to safety after a mob of Egyptians broke into the office. No reports of injuries were received in Washington, sources said.

The consulate demanded protection from the Egyptian government. In Baghdad, the American Embassy was attacked. The mob there smashed the windows of an American vehicle and destroyed books.

Governor to New Mexico

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas will be one of the speakers at an industrial development conference at Santa Fe, N.M., at noon Wednesday.

The governor also is scheduled to speak at Windsor, Conn., Friday at commencement exercises at the Loomis School, of which he is a graduate.

Other stops this week on the governor's speaking schedule include the state AFL-CIO convention at Hot Springs Tuesday, Arkansas Boys State at Camp Robinson near Little Rock Thursday morning and the Arkansas Bar Association convention at Hot Springs Thursday afternoon.

Hackler's Charge Called 'Absurd'

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Truman Altenbaumer, executive secretary of the Arkansas Republican party, Monday termed a charge by two state Game and Fish Commission officials as "absurd" and "completely false."

The officials had charged that the Republicans had demanded half of the jobs in the commission for GOP supporters.

Raymond Farris of Biscoe, a commission member, and Hugh Hackler, its executive director, had cited the refusal of Altenbaumer's alleged request as the reason why Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller asked the commission's seven members to resign.

"My only conversation with Mr. Hackler was a request that the Republican Party be considered when vacancies occurred in his department," Altenbaumer declared. "We haven't even asked Republican department heads to replace a percentage of their employees with Republicans, let alone Mr. Hackler's department."

Rockefeller is expected to call a hearing soon in an attempt to remove the commissioners under the provisions of Amendment 35 to the state Constitution. All seven refused to resign.

One of the biggest problems of grammar school teachers was to break up the squabbles that resulted from marble games played during recess. And kids caught pitching pennies for keeps had to carry home a stern letter from the principal to their parents.

The world of boyhood was divided into two classes: those wealthy enough to afford chewing gum, and those who simply gougued out some tar in the street in summer and chewed it.

The biggest excitement in small towns was generally caused either by runaway horses or dog fights.

A housewife didn't mind poverty quite so much as long as she had white lace curtains to hang in her front windows. They were her quiet banners of gentility.

Arab Planes Chewed Up by Israel

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Israeli air force apparently chewed up the Arab air forces in the first day of the war, U.S. government sources reported after hearing from American observers in the Middle East.

This information tended to support Israel's claim that its jets had struck a hard blow to Arab air power.

The U.S. sources, who provided no figures, stopped short of saying the Arab air forces had been neutralized.

If they have succeeded in smashing Arab air power, the Israelis will have achieved one of two vital military objectives.

The other major military aim is destruction of Egyptian tank forces.

The Israelis and the Egyptians each were credited with having about 1,000 tanks before the fighting broke out, with another 1,000 or so tanks distributed among other Arab armies.

Reports to the Pentagon on the military course of the war were still scanty in detail many hours after the fighting began.

Israeli military leaders claimed Monday to have destroyed 374 Egyptian, Jordanian and Syrian aircraft in aerial combat and on the ground. The Arabs claimed to have shot down 161 Israeli planes.

Shortly before the conflict erupted, American military experts estimated the Arab states had combined air forces totaling more than 350 combat planes. They pegged the Israeli air force at up to 270 fighting aircraft.

Charge of Attack Comes From Egypt

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Egypt today charged that planes from U.S. and British aircraft carriers had attacked Arab forces in Jordan and had provided an air umbrella over Israel on the Egyptian front.

Cairo Radio broadcast an announcement by the Egyptian High Command saying it possessed "complete" proof of this.

The Egyptian claim opened the door to violent Arab reaction against American and British interests in the Arab world and raised the specter of active Soviet involvement.

The Cairo broadcast said King Hussein of Jordan had telephoned President Gamal Abdel Nasser early today and reported Jordanian radar networks had detected the American and British activity. It did not say how the planes were identified on radar.

Lockesburg Marine Killed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Sec. 4 Billy C. McFall of Lockesburg (Sevier County) and Marine Cpl. Gary C. Cupples of Marion (Crittenden County) were among the 54 soldiers listed Monday by the Defense Department as having been killed in action in the Vietnam War.

Teacher Aid Based on Positions

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Attorney General's office ruled Monday that increased state aid for school teachers will be based on teacher positions and individual teachers and gave a name to an initiative petition which would lower the legal voting age in Arkansas to 18.

Two opinions were sent out on the school aid bill passed by the 1967 legislature designating a $500 raise per teacher. A. W. Ford, the state education commissioner, received one, and Floyd Parsons, superintendent of the Little Rock schools, the other.

The opinions upheld Act 259 of 1967, approved the state board's regulations for implementing the act and clarified distribution of the funds.

UN Works on Cease-fire Resolution

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Representatives of the United States and the Soviet Union met in private today in an effort to end the Security Council deadlock over a U.N. cease-fire in the Israeli-Arab fighting.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg and Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko were brought together in the office of the council president, Ambassador Hans R. Tabor of Denmark, as the other delegates stood by ready for quick action if agreement was reached.

The U.S.-Soviet meeting followed a long round of talks earlier this morning after a full day of private consultations Monday.

Diplomats were hopeful that overnight consultations would produce a formula that would be acceptable to both the United States and the Soviet Union.

They said the two had promised to seek instructions from their governments that might enable them to settle the remaining issue—the point to which the fighting forces should withdraw.

The two big powers were still deadlocked when the council adjourned Monday night after an hour's public debate and 11 hours' private consultations on what to do about the fighting.

The Russians wanted the resolution to indicate only that the forces should withdraw to the positions they held before the fighting.

The Americans wanted to be able to interpret it as meaning withdrawal from the Strait of Tiran where they were blockading Israeli shipping.

The House Ways and Means Committee talks of cutting back slightly on Social Security benefits increases proposed by President Johnson.

No Foul Play in Death of Hope Man

MCCOMB, Miss. (AP) — A coroner's jury ruled that the Arkansas truck driver died of strangulation, and no foul play is suspected, but Sheriff Robert Lawson said here Monday that he was continuing to investigate the death of Eugene Loyed, 29, of Hope, Ark., who was found Saturday hanging from a motel room clothes rack, dressed in a woman's clothing.

Lawson said a cord had been wrapped around Loyed's neck, passed over the rack and knotted around his hands.

BULLETINS

LONDON (AP) — Egypt, Syria and Algeria announced Tuesday they have broken diplomatic relations with the United States.

Cairo radio said the Egyptian move was made because "it was proved that the United States and Britain have taken part in war operations in support of the enemy."

MIDDLE EAST

Syrian forces join the battle as Israel claims advances into Jordan, Sinai and Gaza and the destruction of 374 Arab planes. The Arabs claim an Egyptian thrust into Israel's Negov Desert and 161 Israeli planes downed.

U. S. government sources, quoting American observers, say the Israeli air force apparently chewed up the Arab air force.

U.N. diplomats are hopeful that the United States and the Soviet Union can agree on a cease-fire resolution.

The United Nations has been trying to solve the Middle East problem for 20 years. Many believe it is insoluble.

Despite Moscow's support of the Arabs, the Soviet Union apparently wants a quick end to the war, official U. S. sources say.

Administration officials acknowledge to congressional leaders that the outbreak of war caught them by surprise.

Arabs Claim U.S., British Planes Attack

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israeli forces swept within 90 miles of the Suez Canal today, apparently following the road that led them to the vital waterway in 1956. The Egyptians closed the canal on the ground that it could be blocked indefinitely if a ship was hit there.

With their bitterness overflowing against the United States because of its past support of Israel, three Arab countries—Kuwait, Iraq and Algeria—cut off sale of oil to the United States and Britain. Lebanon curtailed loading of oil from pipelines.

These actions followed Cairo charges that British and American planes from carriers were aiding Israel. The charges were denounced as false in both Washington and London.

The Soviet Union was backing the Arabs and spoke out against Israel as having instigated the war, but no military intervention from Moscow was evident.

By land or air, Israel carried the war into Jordan, Syria and Iraq as well as Egypt.

Israel, seemingly with air superiority over the fronts, claimed the destruction of at least 374 Arab planes. Israel admitted losing 19 planes, while the Arab commands claimed 163 were shot down.

An indication of Israel's air superiority came from a Jordanian
